Jalese DeBiasi draws on over a decade of trial and civil litigation experience to defend insurers in auto and general negligence claims.

Jalese is a skilled litigator with a strong command of case strategy. She focuses her practice on insurance defense, handling mainly No-Fault first-party PIP, third-party bodily injury, and medical provider claims, as well as general negligence and premise liability claims. She evaluates risk early, builds fact-driven defenses, and positions cases for resolution or trial.

Before shifting to civil litigation, Jalese practiced criminal law as both a defense attorney and a prosecutor. During her time prosecuting felony cases, she secured over 20 guilty verdicts in under two years. That courtroom work sharpened her ability to manage high-pressure proceedings, exhibit agility in decision-making, assess witnesses, and respond decisively in trial—all strengths she brings to civil defense.

Known for her thoroughness, organization, and professionalism, Jalese approaches each case with a down-to-earth dedication and courtesy, consistently delivering strong results for her clients. Jalese has resolved numerous claims through settlement, secured key motion wins, and prepared complex cases for trial. For each case, she aligns her strategy with her client's goals while maintaining the highest ethical standards.

Jalese earned her undergraduate degree from Wayne State University after three years at Spring Arbor University, where she played collegiate soccer—a meaningful conclusion to a lifetime of playing the sport competitively. She received her Juris Doctor from the University of Detroit Mercy School of Law, where she was active in Moot Court and completed the Criminal Trial Externship.

Outside of work, Jalese enjoys spending time with her two beloved dogs—Ruby, a pit mix, and Fonzie, a boxer. She's an active lifestyle enthusiast who spends her free time at the gym, at the lake, on doggie play dates, golfing, or relaxing with family and friends. Jalese volunteers with The Joseph Project, a nonprofit organization that assists human trafficking survivors through pro bono legal services.
