Benjamin Krinke offers a distinctive edge in automotive law, fortified by a career path that spans plaintiff personal injury law firms, insurance claim representation, and defense litigation.

Ben's experience provides him with a well-rounded view of no-fault, general liability, and personal injury cases, particularly within the automotive context. Starting his career at a southeast Michigan personal injury firm, Ben gained considerable litigation experience in first- and third-party motor vehicle accidents and personal injury cases. He honed his skills in drafting motions, complaints, and other essential documents. His active involvement in depositions and motion hearings deepened his practical knowledge, enabling him to manage a high-volume caseload.

Transitioning to a litigation claim representative at a Michigan insurer, Ben managed a caseload of litigated PIP, UM/UIM, and bodily injury automobile insurance claims. His deep familiarity with statutory and case law allowed him to give valuable guidance to front-line claim representatives. Ben earned multiple designations through The Institutes in AINS and AIC-M, equipping him with a comprehensive understanding of the insurance industry. This specialized knowledge empowers him to navigate complex legal challenges with a heightened awareness of industry dynamics, resulting in adept and tailored representation for his clients.

Ben earned his Juris Doctor, magna cum laude, from Michigan State University College of Law, distinguishing himself through high academic achievements. His undergraduate study in Vocal Performance from Central Michigan University's Honors Program and the many related hours of stage performance elevate his communication skills and relatability in the courtroom, enhancing his ability to achieve favorable outcomes for his clients.

Ben's approach to law is as comprehensive as it is strategic. His capacity to understand all parties involved allows him to develop effective strategies that align with his client's objectives. With his commitment, diverse skill set, and unique perspective, Ben is an asset to both his clients and the wider legal community.

Outside the legal realm, Ben is an avid distance runner and has completed multiple marathons. He also indulges his passion for golf, admitting that his skill level might not match his enthusiasm.
